HEALTH CARE BREACH

$155 million settlement

80 million individuals impacted

In June 2017, a U.S. health insurance provider agreed to settle to the tune of $155 million over a 2015 breach which involved the personal information of nearly 80 million individuals. The fact is, the health care industry is now the number one target for hackers, and they don't just target the larger organizations.

Staying secure and compliant involves a complex web of technology, expertise and ongoing education. This is why VGM has created VGM Secure Tech Solutions. Consisting of eight team members with expertise in various areas of technology, this new offering helps members with anything technology or security related.

CYBERATTACKS: IT'S A QUESTION OF WHEN, NOT IF

We've always had members contact us for advice. In forming Secure Tech Solutions, we're making sure every member knows we're here to help no matter how big or how small their question is.

–Jeremy Kauten, CIO and Senior VP of IT, VGM

This advice covers the gamut—computers, tablets, cloud technology, mobile and remote workforce, security, and VoIP phone systems, just to name a few.

AVOID THE HEADLINES

Independent HME providers have similar needs as larger national companies but may not have the expertise or the resources to navigate the complexities of purchasing technology and security solutions.

Secure Tech Solutions exists to help members navigate business technology solutions and secure their data.

REAL SAVINGS

Technology is a growing cost for businesses everywhere. But, choosing the wrong technology can be quite costly if you find your budget-friendly option lacking. Seeking out Secure Tech Solution's advice before major purchases can help ensure you find the right solution the first time.

COMPLIANCE AND RISK

HIPAA compliance is a hot topic, especially for payer and referral sources. Several providers have reported being contacted by payers, insurance companies, and referral sources asking for proof and documentation of their compliance and security. At times, the ability for these providers to continue doing business with these entities hinges on this documentation.

KNOW WHERE YOUR RISK LIES

Members often tell me how eye-opening and valuable the security review is, saying there are a number of questions they never thought impacted their risk.

–Carol Albaugh, Technical Solutions Consultant, VGM

Secure Tech Solutions has a number of offerings to help members including software solutions, assistance with policies and procedures, workforce awareness training and incidence response planning.
